

David and Goliath Craft

Materials Needed: A4 paper, two colors of markers, ruler (scale), and scissors.

By Sandra McTiernan

Turn paper
vertical, straight
up and down.
Think of Goliath
being on the right, shaped like a big bowling pin.

Use black marker to draw Goliath with big clown feet. You need big feet, so he will stand. Give him a Hershey kiss hat. Draw a much smaller David looking to side.

His 2 bottom slits will be 1cm long each, and close to each side. The rectangle at top will be 2cm wide x 5cm with 1 cm slits on one side near to top and bottom.

Do your inner drawings with another color of marker.

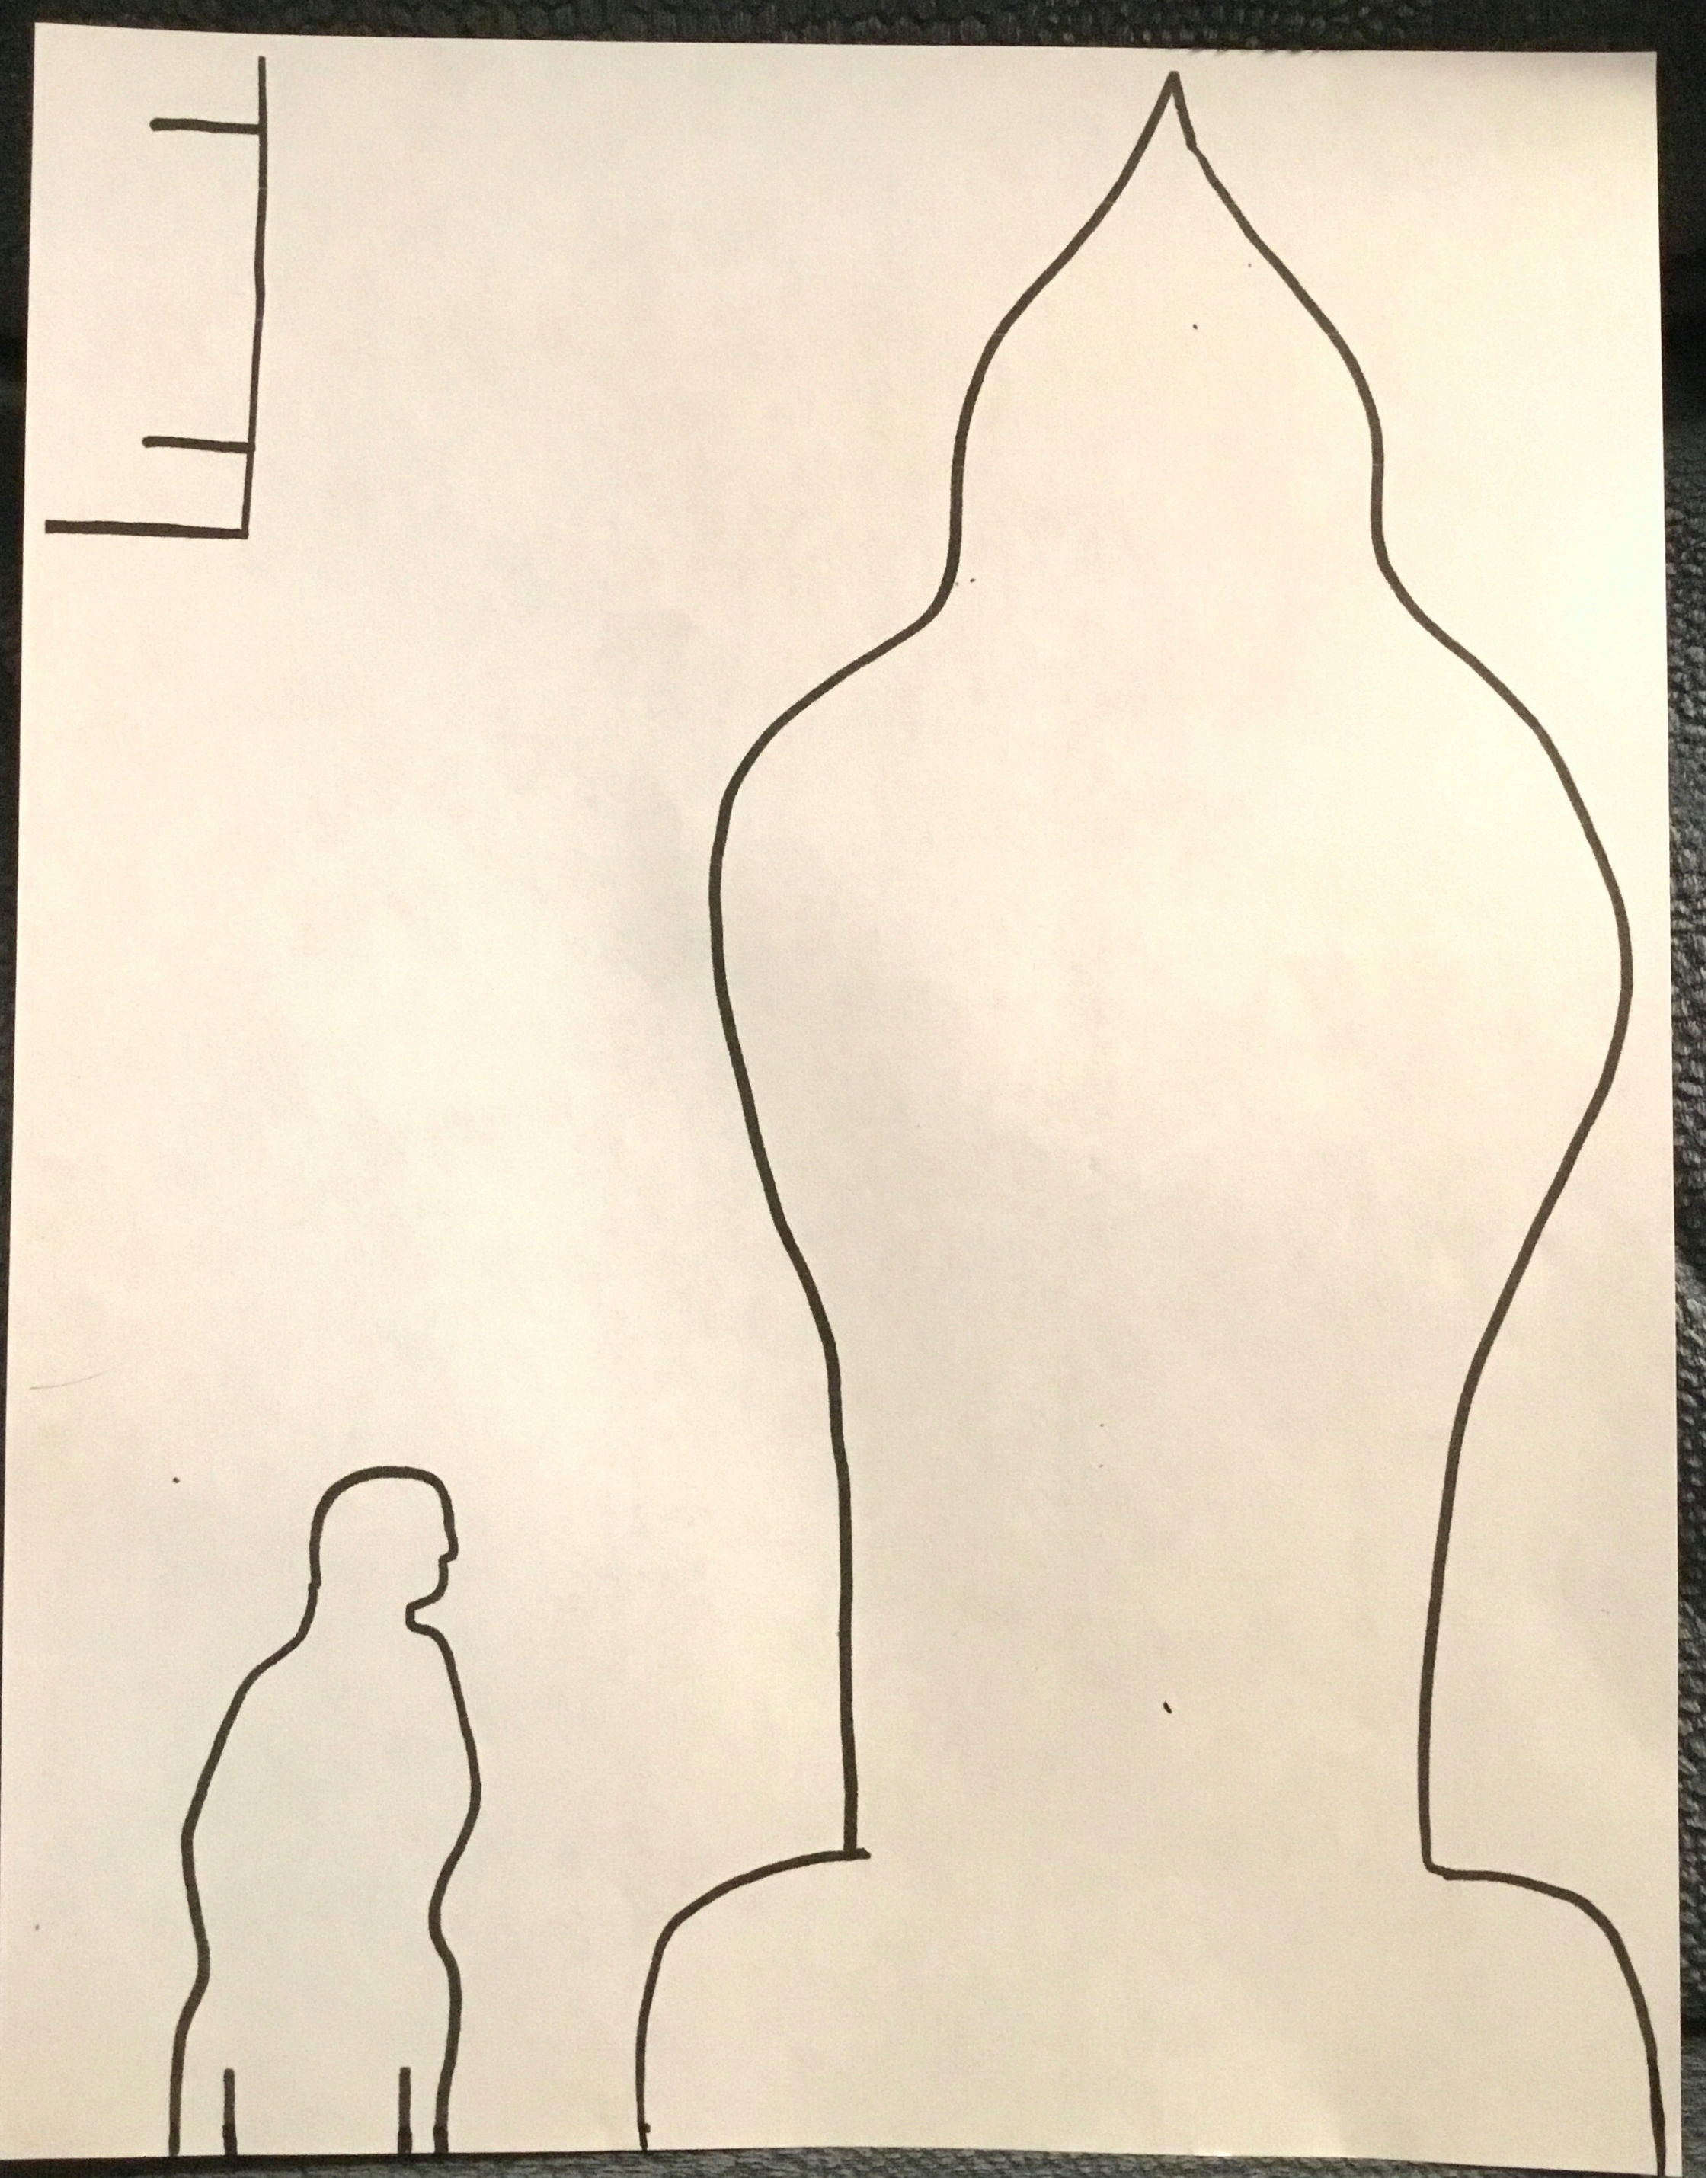

Tip: Draw what is IN FRONT FIRST always.

For example, you need to draw hands before the legs.

Give Goliath an angry mouth and eyebrows that angle downward towards center. Give him clenched fists and a breastplate. Don't worry about the feet.

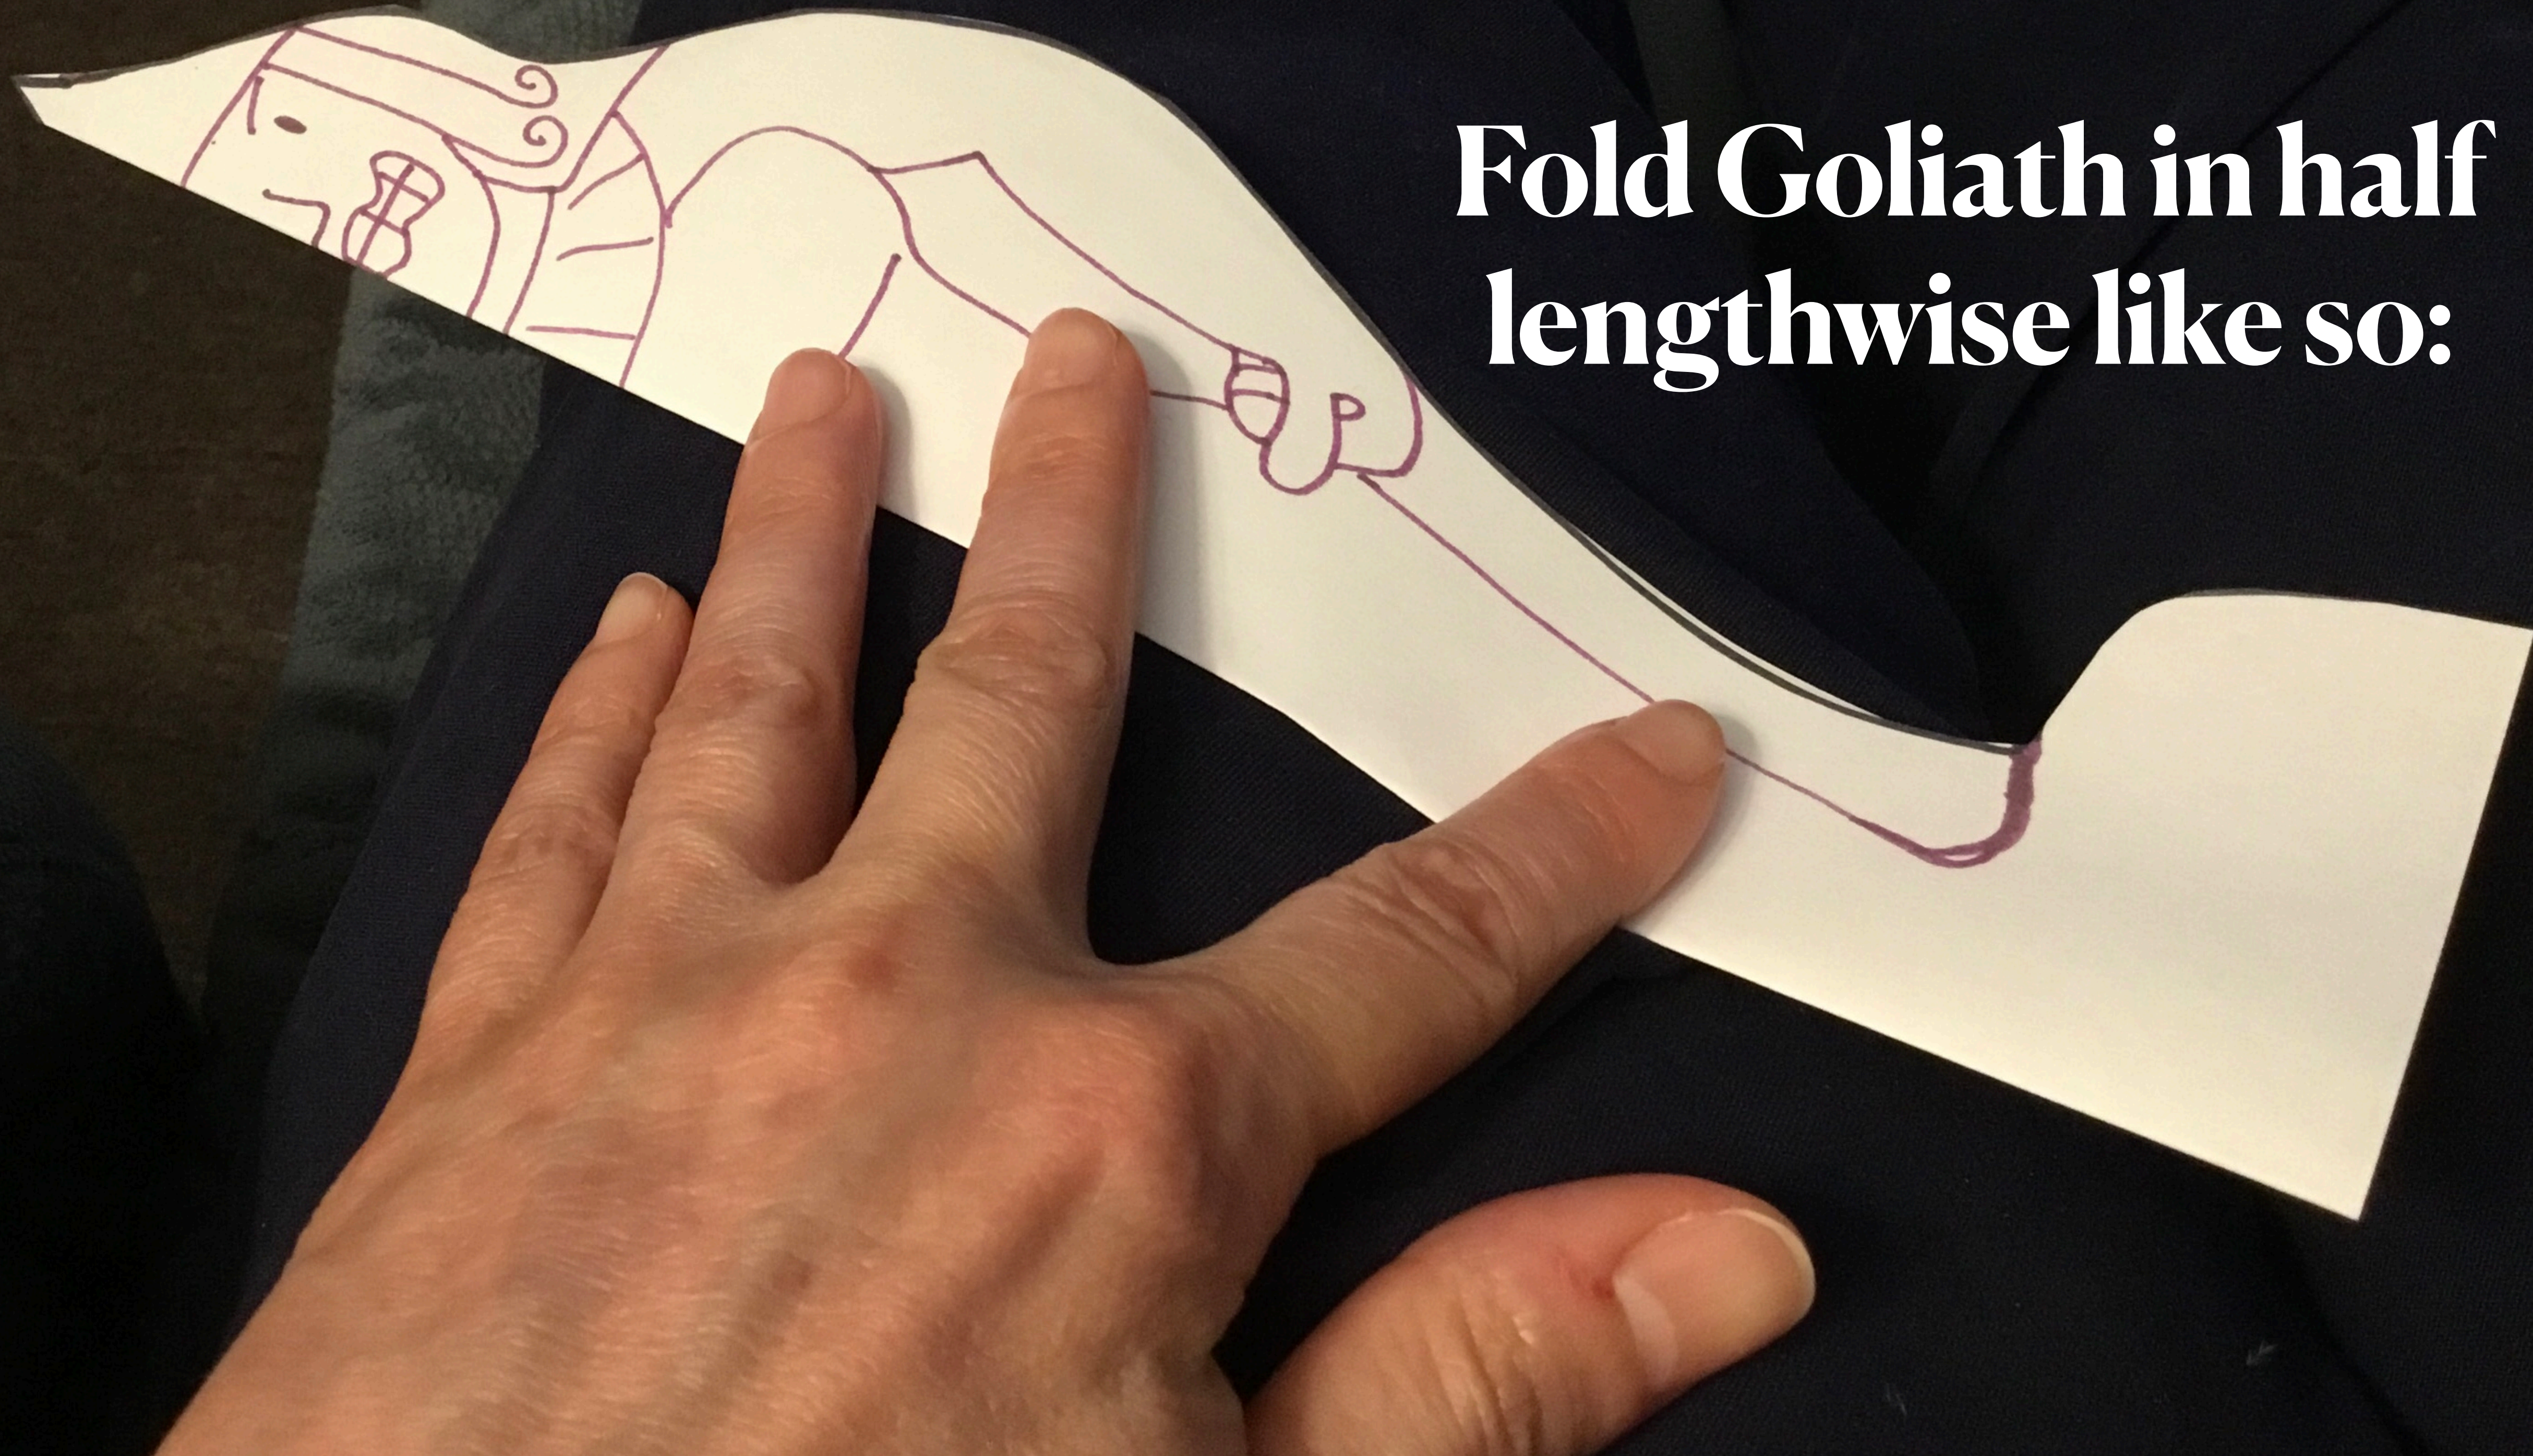

Make David kinda skinny. He is a boy.

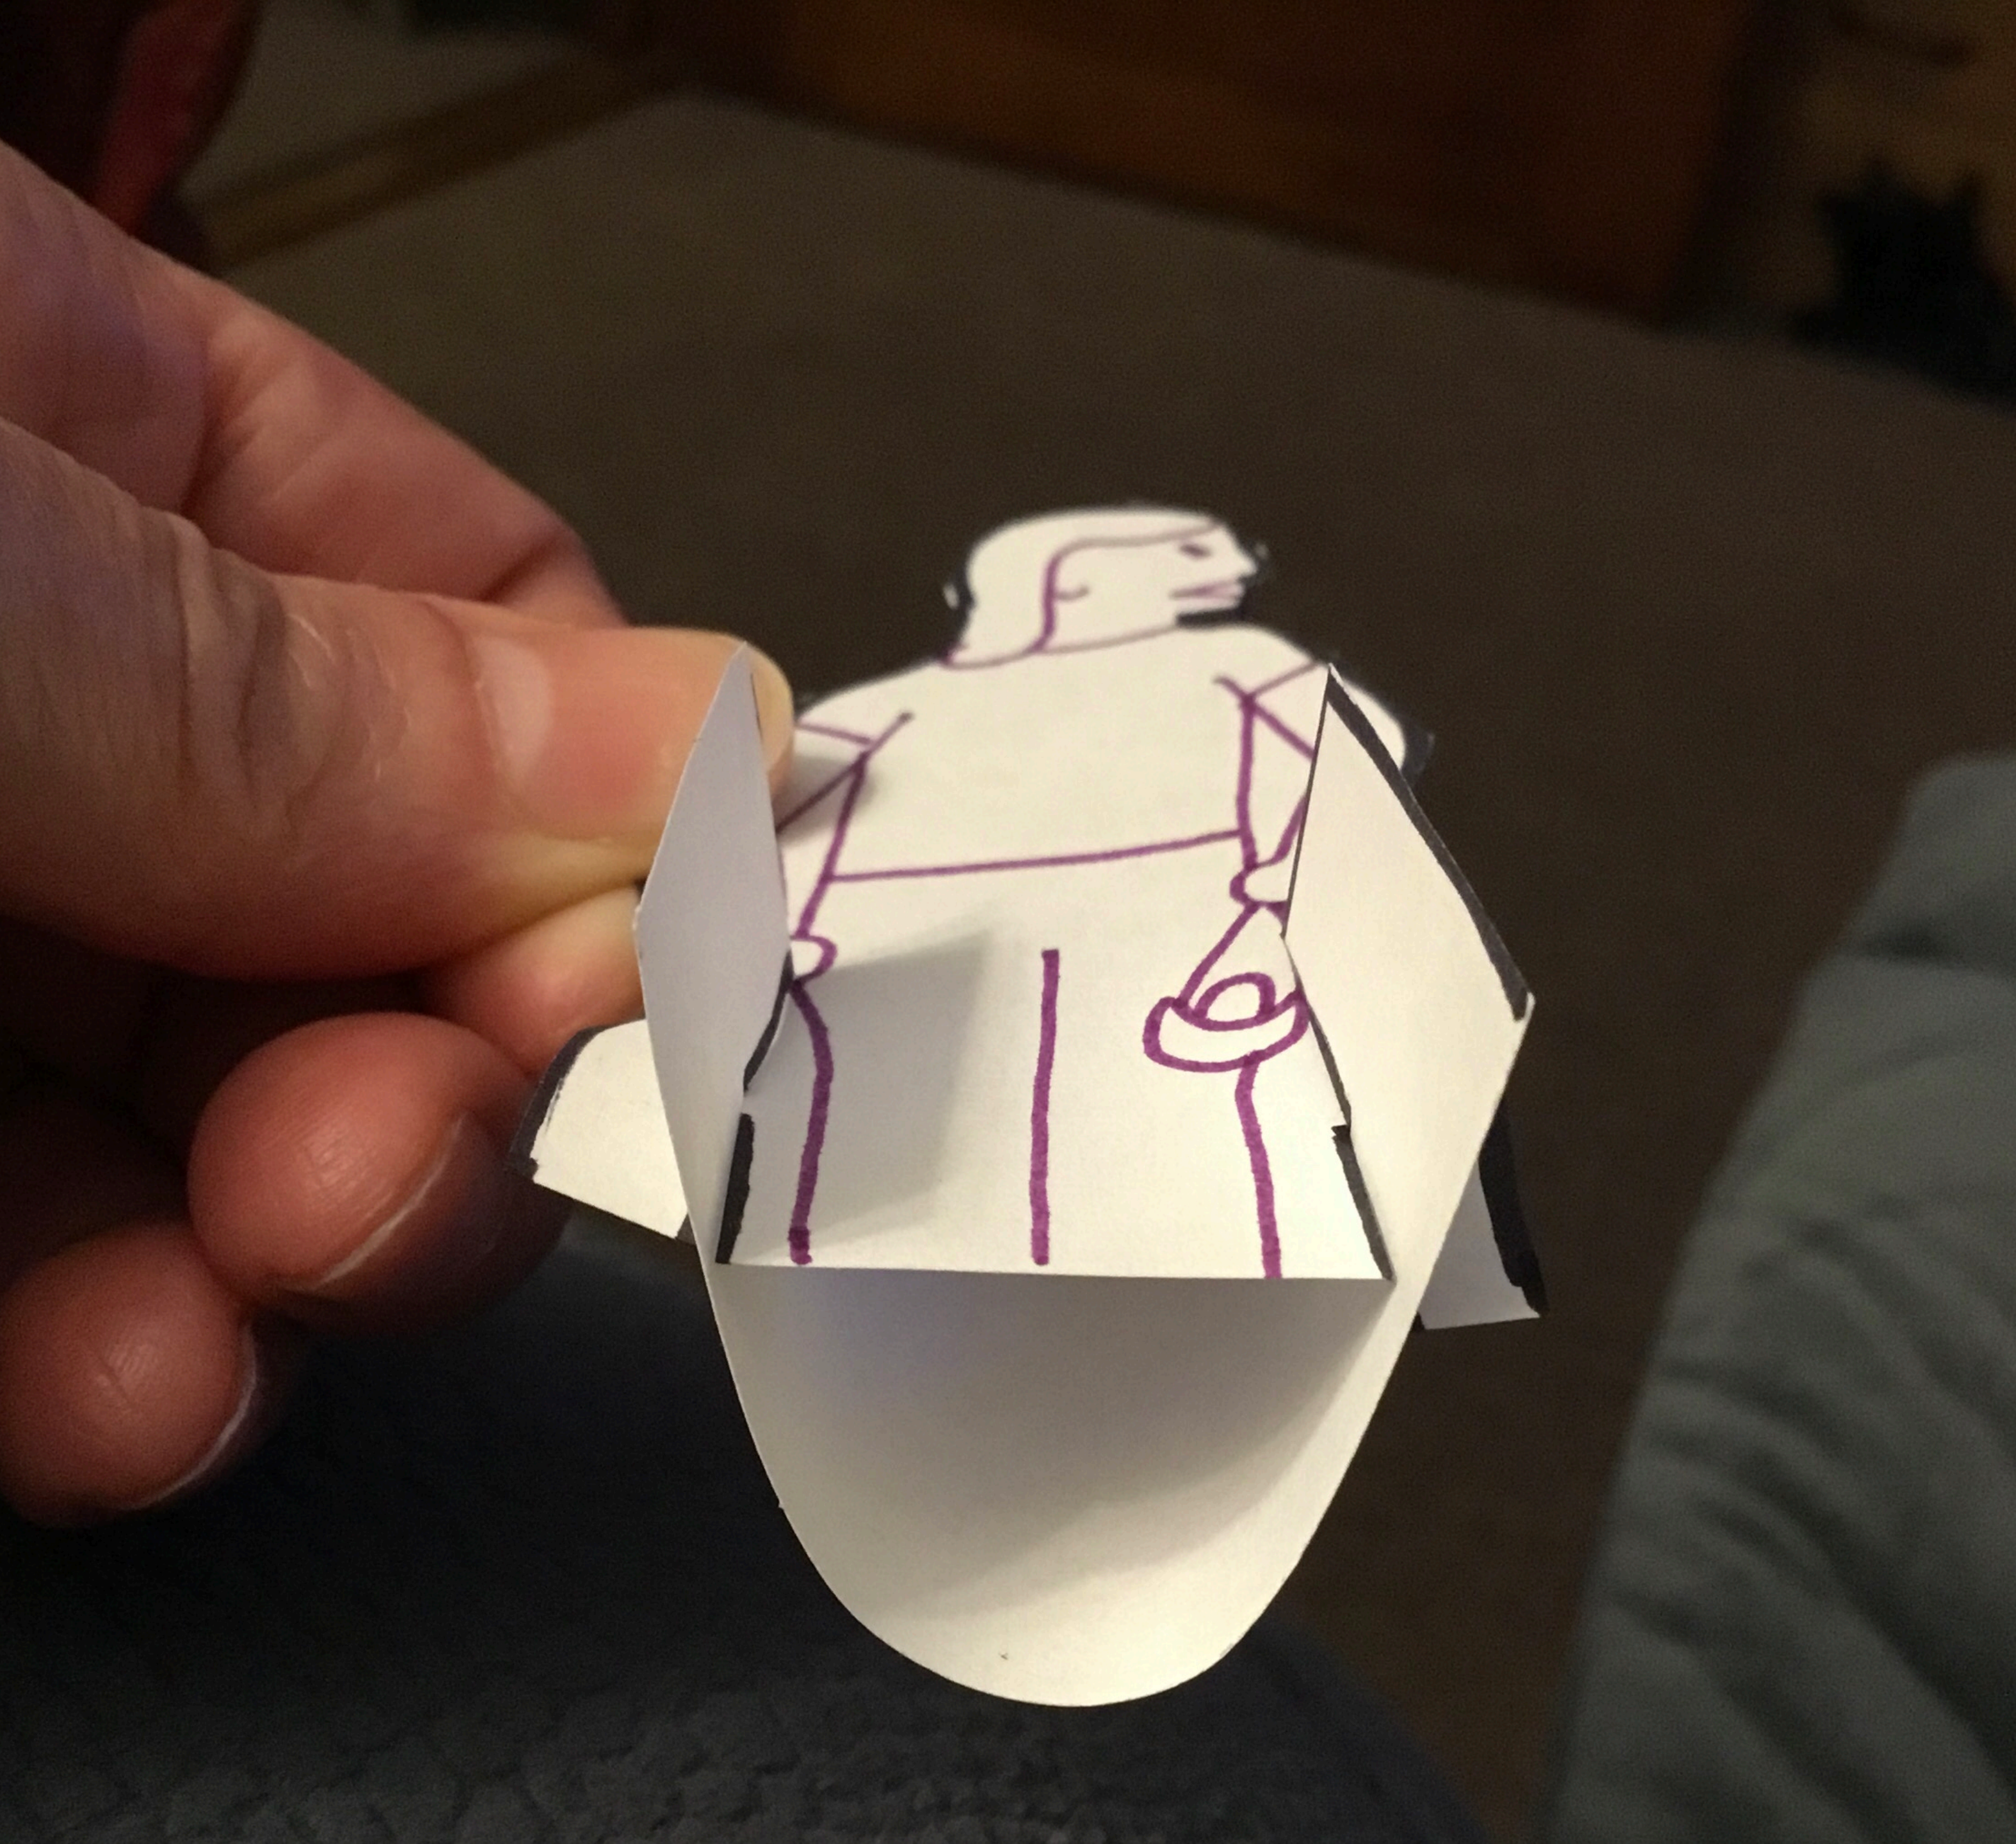

Give him a sling in one hand. His mouth is open because he's yelling.

It's time to cut.
Remember that the black lines
only are your cut lines. I displayed them here to remind you.

Fold Goliath in half lengthwise like so:

Goliath will stand on his own, but David needs the rectangle. Bend rectangle and fit slits together like this. If you didn't cut your slits yet, do so first.

He falls down if you blow on him!!
Hahahhahaha!
You did it!
